What happens after we die?

Do we really have a soul or do the life we live is all we got?

This story is about Mike Davis a 31 years old software developer.

Mike lives a very very ordinary life.

He is a junior software developer at IBM where he makes just enough money to pay the bills and live a good but modest life. Mike doesn't work so hard, his job is boring and his boss doesn't really care about what he does. Big parts of each day he finds himself playing candy crash or surfing the web trying to find a picture – a video – an article or any piece of information that will trigger that huge idea that he is waiting for - that 1,000,000,000$ idea that will make him rich.

Mike is happily married for the past 8 years, he met his wife Katie 10 years ago in college and they have been together ever since. Mike also has 2 young children, Joe and Lucy. Mike is a great father and he loves his children more than anything in the world. He is the kind of father that would do anything and everything for his children. Mike and Lucy have a ritual, whenever Lucy falls or gets hurt he puts his hands on her cheeks and says - "Lucy, don't cry. Do you know how much I love you?" – Lucy always answers "How much daddy?" and Mike says "Like the sun loves the sky" and then Lucy whispers "And will you always love me daddy?" - Mikes replies "Always always!"

One ordinary afternoon while Mike is driving home from work a truck hits his car. Mike is severely injured. Feebly, Mike tries to reach a picture of his wife and kids which he always keeps in the car. He takes the picture and gently touches the faces of his beloved family. He thinks on the moments he will never have with them again, that he will never be in his children weddings and that he will never grow old with Katie.

Mike dies……

Only then, he suddenly wakes up! When he opens his eyes he finds himself on a yacht, a huge yacht. He gets up from the chair that he was sitting on, a chair that is located just near the pool, clueless to where he is or what he is doing there. A beautiful woman surprises him from the back. This lady is just gorgeous, long legged, blond, perfect face. Beautiful.

Mike looks confused. "Mike, what's wrong? You look like you've seen a ghost" she says.

Mike looks at his reflection in the mirror and sees his familiar face. He is starting to get flashbacks of his children and wife. He can still feel the pain from the car accident that killed him. In addition to those flashbacks he also starts getting flashbacks of memories which he never had. He knows this blond woman but he had never seen her before.

Mike passes out and wakes up in the hospital. Not wanting anyone to think that he is crazy, Mike hides his confusion and pretends that everything is OK.

Mike learns that he is the CEO of a very successful startup which were bought six month ago by a huge corporation. This deal has made Mike a very wealthy man. The beautiful woman that he met on his yacht is Jennie, his fiancée. Jennie is the daughter of one of Mike's company big investors. Mike lives the good life - Huge house, expensive cars and an assistant. Basically, he has everything he had spent days dreaming about in his boring job at IBM.

Mike is starting to remember Jennie and starting to remember the good life this version of Mike has been living. He remembers that He broke up from Katie (his wife from the previous life) just after college and started his startup company with his college roommate.

Mike actually beginning to enjoy his life but the memories from his past life doesn't leave him alone, he dreams about his children and about the promise that he used to make to his daughter Lucy after every time she was injured. He decides to find Katie and talk to her. When he gets to her house he tries to hug her but she pushes him away. She is still heartbroken from how Mike left her and chose his career over her. He finally gets her attention and tells her the story of their life, how they got married and what beautiful children they have. Katie gets upset, she calls him crazy and that he needs help. She asks him to leave her apartment and never come back.

A few days later, in the middle of a party that Mike and Jennie attend, Mike gets a phone call from an unknown number. When he answers the call, a woman from the other end of the line tells him that she has something important to tell him regarding Katie, Lucy and Joe. She asks to meet him as soon as he can. Mike leaves Jennie at the party, gets into his car and drives as fast as he can to meet with this woman.

In their meeting, Mike finds out that this woman is a medium that gets messages from beyond. She explains to Mike that the soul inside us is just a spark from our true soul which exists in a spiritual dimension. The purpose of the soul is to advance and evolve and it is using our human form to do so. Every human soul contains endless number of sparks and all the souls of all the people in the world are connected to one another. Each time that a person makes a major decision, the kind that can change the course of things, all the souls sends out new sparks that together generate an alternate universe. One universe for each decision that we take. When a person dies his spark is retrieved by his own soul. The soul can than process and learn from this spark mistakes and achievements. The medium tells Mike that in rare cases like his, the soul is sending back by mistake a spark that was recently collected by it - instead of a new spark. So, the alternate universe is created and a spark that had lived before enters the body. This is the reason why he remembers his past life. It's completely by mistake – an error of our creation.

Mike asks her if there is any way he can get back to his old life and is disappointed when he is told that he died in that universe and that there is no way he can ever get back. She tells him that it is time to move on, continue with his current life and try to forget his previous one.

Mike – unhappy with what he learned decides to visit Katie one more time. After Mike tells her details from her life that only she knows about, she agrees to come with him to talk with the medium. The medium, not wanting that the story about our creation will be revealed, lies and tells Katie that she doesn't know what he is talking about. After seeing how much it is important to Mike and the amount of pain he is in, she decides to tell Katie the truth. This revelation causes Mike and Katie to kiss.

One year goes by, Mike broke up with Jennie and he is now living again with Katie. Tomorrow should have been Lucy's 7th birthday. Mike decides to revisit the medium. He cries and shares with the medium how much he misses his children. He encourages the medium to check and see if there is anything that can be done to give him his children back.

The medium agrees, closes her eyes and start receiving information. She tells mike that because that his spark came here by accident, it is probable that if he dies his spark can request it soul to put it back into an alternate universe, a universe in which Lucy and Joe were born and are alive in. She tells him that nothing is for sure and if he dies, there is also a chance that his spark will never return to earth again.

Mike shares this information with Katie who begs him not to commit suicide. She says that she loves him and soon they will be married and have their own children. Mike is torn apart between the possibility of reuniting with his children and creating a future with Katie in this universe.

Mike tells Katie that he is going on his yacht to do some thinking and Katie requests him not to go. Mikes goes anyway.

On the way to his yacht, Mike, occupied with his thoughts, does not notice that he is about to run a red light. When he finally sees that danger, he tries to brake but it is too late and a car hits him from the side. Mike barely makes it out of the car and passes out on the road. Katie which was following him with her car, arrives at the scene a few seconds later and sees him lying unconscious on the ground. She exits her car and runs to Mike. She hugs him and doesn't let go until the paramedics who arrives to the place moves her from Mike. Mike is taken in an ambulance and Katie sits next to him and holds his hand.

Mike wakes up in a bed. Its morning time. Still confused about what happened or where he is, Mikes tries to get out of bed but accidently falls on the floor. He then feels two little hands on his cheeks and hears a familiar voice "Daddy, Don't cry. Do you know how much I love you?" Mike looks up and see his daughter Lucy, tears are starting to cover his eyes "How much Lucy?" he asks. Lucy looks at her father and says "Like the sun loves the sky" - Mike replies "And will you always love me Lucy?" – "Always daddy. Always".

Joe and Katie enter the room. Katie is carrying in her hands a tiny baby boy. He looks two or maybe three month old. Mike realizes that this baby is his own child. Katie says with a smile - "Good morning honey, its Lucy's birthday today, remember? Get dressed already and let's go. We need to be at your parents' house in half an hour". Mike cries and hugs the four of them real tight "I love you guys so much" he says.
